FAVORABLE COMMENT. The Arcanum Council Will Protect Their Membership. The fraternal resolution of McCarthy Council, Royal Arcanum, looking to the assistance of old members in carrying their increased assessment amounts elicited many words of commendation on the street yesterday. It is now generally regarded as a practical exemplification of fraternity and an earnest of the Arcanum desire to arouse the interest of its membership. It is not to be understood that this council has a particularly large number of old men who will be embarrassed by the new rate schedule, but in view of the fact that the new rate will fall somewhat heavily upon those advanced in years and that they have been sent about "freezing out" the old men, this council resolved to provide for the contingency of there being some who might have to reduce the amount of their benefit certificate. An Arcanumite said in regard to this matter: "It was impossible for the Supreme Council to pass any special or class legislation and so the rates were made uniform. The 'jumping' and members to their 'attained ages' of course raises the payment amount of the older members considerably, and it is clearly permissible for the local council, if they so desire, to assist in carrying the older men who are unable to meet the assessments of course within constitutional limitation."

WISE BAILED FOR THURSDAY. E. ROYAL BABEK Cures Malaria. The Summer Remedy.

Election Case Put Off in Police Court Till Next Week. TO BE THOROUGHLY PROBED Commonwealth's Attorney and Mr. Royall Working Together. Commonwealth's Attorney Richardson and Mr. W. L. Royall are determined to go to the bottom of the alleged irregularities in the Third Precinct, Monroe Ward, and they are rendering each other every possible assistance in the matter. Jackson Wise, the judge against whom charges upon a warrant have been made, was yesterday rebuffed in the Police Court for his appearance before that tribunal on next Thursday, when the case will come to trial. Mr. Wise says he has nothing to fear, and that he desires the case disposed of as soon as may be. Culbertson is still at large, though the detectives are looking for him. Mr. Henry Salomon, who is mentioned by Mr. Royall as a clerk who did not serve, and in whose place Culbertson was put, is a merchant on Broad Street. There is nothing to connect him with the matter. It is stated that he was an Epps man and did not serve because he did not care to lose the day from his business. He declared when appointed he would not serve.

The Case in Court. Charged with fraudulently "advising and assisting" L. K. Culbertson to vote in the recent primary, Jackson Wise appeared before Justice J. J. Crutchfield in the Police Court yesterday morning ready for trial. He had retained Mr. Gilbert K. Pollock to defend him. On account of the absence of an important witness for the prosecution, the case went over until next Thursday. In the meantime, every effort will be made by the detectives to apprehend Culbertson. Commonwealth's Attorney Richardson appeared to prosecute. Mr. Richardson has the co-operation of Mr. Royall, who has been instrumental in bringing to light the alleged fraud in Third Monroe. In the discussion resulting from the motion of Mr. Royall for a continuance until a day when Mr. Royall could be present to testify, Mr. Richardson said, parenthetically, that he wanted the fullest investigation of the charge. He expressed the regret that the punishment for such an offense had not been made a felony instead of a misdemeanor. The person who would practice or connive in a cheat in the election should be sent to the penitentiary, said the Commonwealth's attorney. He said that he did not refer in any manner to the case now pending, but wanted to express his desire to see a full investigation.

Many Witnesses. The following witnesses were called for the prosecution: Messrs. J. W. Carney, David Connel, Louis Cobby, Charles Kenney, F. Norvell and H. B. Epps. Mr. Norvell was not present. He had not been summoned, the officers being unable to locate him Thursday. Justice Crutchfield instructed Mr. Doherty, chairman of the City Democratic Committee, to produce the poll books from the precinct in which the alleged fraud was practiced. Mr. Doherty said that he could not allow the books to be brought into court or removed from the vault in which they are now kept without an order from the court. He also asked that an officer accompany him to the vault and witness the breaking of the seal on the box and also the resealing of this box when the book was removed.

Case Goes Over. When the motion was made for a continuance until next week, Justice Crutchfield said that he would defer the matter to go over until the grand jury had investigated it. It was tacitly understood that the jury would take up the matter of Mr. Wise along with other alleged irregularities of the primary. Mr. Richardson and Mr. Royall explained that there would be no discounting in hearing this charge before the grand jury took action, for the reason that this was a specific offense, while the grand jury was in general terms investigating the reports of alleged fraud. The Police Court adjourned until next Thursday, when the grand jury should indict, be the trial court for the defendant. The crime of which he is charged is a misdemeanor, to be dealt with by the police justice.

MARTIN'S PLANS. Will Not Discuss the Joint Debate With the Governor. Senator Thomas S. Martin arrived in the city yesterday about 9 o'clock, and spent the day here at his headquarters, leaving in the evening by boat for Norfolk, and thence to Cape Charles, on route to Northampton. All day long a stream of callers occupied his attention, and he was the recipient of many congratulations on his share of the joint debate at King George, on Thursday. A representative of the Times Dispatch asked Mr. Martin if he had cared to say anything as to the discussion of the statement of Governor Montague that he regarded the terms as unfair to him. The Senator stated that he preferred to make no expression, and referred the reporter to any of those present who heard the discussion. Senator Martin will speak in Northampton county to-day, and again at Eastville, in the same county, on Monday. He will return to Richmond Tuesday, and will remain here until the 10th, when he will go to Pittsylvania, the Governor's home county, to make an address on the 17th. The same evening he will speak in Danville, Monday, the 17th, at Chatham, will be marked by a big barbecue in his honor. A number of congratulatory telegrams from various sections of the State were received at the Senator's headquarters yesterday, and his followers there and in the city generally, were highly gratified, not to say jubilant over the reports of the King George meeting.

MAYOR CUTCHIN HERE. Gives His Views About Politics in Roanoke City. Mayor Joel H. Cutchin, of Roanoke, was in the city yesterday, having come to Richmond and Petersburg on legal business last week. Mr. Owen's Views. Hon. J. J. Owen, of Prince Edward county, member of the House of Delegates, was in the city yesterday. He stated that he was in field for renomination and, so far as he knew, would meet no opposition. Mr. Owen expressed the belief that Senator Martin would certainly carry Prince Edward. Speaking of the movement by farmers in this State to hold their tobacco crops until they could get a fair price for them, Mr. Owen said that the branch in the county of the American Society of Equity, which the farmers have been organized for this purpose, would get about 50 per cent of the crop in Prince Edward, and that the movement was strong in other southside tobacco-growing counties.
